

Infinite Mastery Training

This training is suitable for emerging N.L.P practitioners as well as established Master Practitioners.

What you will receive from this training:

*Individual coaching by a masterful trainer in an exclusive group.

*A professional developmental training in the advanced use of language patterns. This training will teach you how to recognize un-useful presuppositions in language and also how to unpack and reverse them.

*You may also gain the understanding of how to utilize presuppositions for motivation and positive outcomes for yourself or your business.

*You will cultivate an increased level of refinement in your N.L.P skills as you develop your ability to hear presuppositions within a communication. This will enable you to achieve a higher success rate for yourself and your clients.

This two day training is exclusive to people who have had at least an 18 day N.L.P practitioner training, as you will be expected to have a basic awareness of presuppositions.

Testimonials:

I am amazed at how much information I learned and how skilled I became in such a short time. I leave this course feeling much more confident in my abilities as a practitioner.

R Coley

I am happy that I did this course. Before I didn't understand about presuppositions, but now that I do I can see how effective they are at turning things around.
Now I that I can hear what peoples programing is I look forward to trying this out in my business. I will use this to motivate my staff so they move from I can't to I can.

MASTERING PRESUPPOSITIONS

To presuppose: Assume something without evidence, to take for granted, to imply the existence of.

Presuppositions are linguistic assumptions within a communication.

Once recognised, an N.L.P. practitioner can track these and offer a client the opportunity of changing un-useful internal representations.

What we presuppose about others and what they presuppose about us has a profound effect on our experience of life.

For example: "Have you ever been in a situation where someone said something to you or about you and you knew it was wrong but you were overwhelmed by the judgements, the mind reads or the overall assumptions that were being made."

"Did you then find yourself lost for the words to respond and still thinking about all the things you should have said for days, weeks, or even months after the event?"

"Did you wish you had known how to respond in that precise moment so that those un-useful perceptions did not effect your own peace of mind?"

If you answered yes to any of the above questions and want to be able to be more effective in changing this situation both for yourself or for your N.L.P clients in the future, then take the opportunity to be on this exclusive mastery training now.

Note the use of the presupposition "Inclusive Or" below.
So the only question you need to ask yourself is: "Do you want the knowledge and skills you will gain by doing this course in Mastering Presuppositions now, or, do you want the experience of developing an ever increasing sense of fun as you play with reversing presuppositions while you are attend this select training?"

The mind is like an infinite pool of possibility. Whatever you put inside it, will determine who you are becoming. So chose wisely.
